CCM Renewal Point Provider Program

A CCM Renewal Point Provider is an organization that has partnered with CMCI and committed to providing education that meets standards set by the CMCI Board of Governors. These partnerships help individuals earn or maintain the Certified Construction Manager credential by offering additional professional development credit through their events, courses, seminars, and online courses.

CMCI encourages CCMs to consider courses from CMAA or CCM Renewal Point Providers to meet the professional development requirements necessary to maintain the CCM credential.

Renewal Point Providers can easily be identified by the CCM Renewal Point Provider logo. Visit the CMCI website to see new additions to the provider program and upcoming events.

Survey Reminder

CMCI recently distributed its 2016 CCM Annual Surveillance Survey. The survey should take no longer than 10 minutes to complete, but the results have a major impact on how the Certification program operates. This is your time to be heard - express your opinion and help us build a better credential. The final day to complete the survey is April 28. If you did not receive the survey, please contact CMCI's certification department.

CCM in the News

Recently, Michael Prezioso, PE, CCM of MBP, was mentioned in the American Society of Highway Engineers's (ASHE) seasonal magazine, the "ASHE Scanner" for his work on the US Route-17 improvement project. If you spot a CCM in a non-CMAA/CMCI publication, let us know by posting in the CCM LinkedIn group.

Certifications Enhance Careers

In a recent article from the American Society of Association Executives (ASAE), certified professionals were found to earn higher salaries and experience greater job satisfaction than their non-certified colleagues [\[More...\]](#)
