CMAA Launches Online Standards of Practice Certificate Courses

In response to the growing demand from CM professionals for flexible, affordable professional development opportunities, CMAA has worked to create online “Standards of Practice” Certificate courses. These self-paced online mini-courses are ideal for professionals who want to explore a new specialty, or for younger practitioners looking for a clear educational path through their early years.

The courses allow CM professionals to master modules at their own speed with the ease of a home or office setting, and without the added costs of travel. All courses are narrated by highly experienced CM veterans who share their expertise and insight with the learner.

The eight modules are:

- Contract Administration - Instructor: Joyce Dawson, CCM, Anne Arundel Community College (2hrs)
- Cost Management - Instructor: Edward C. Newman, III, PE, CCM, LEED® AP, Heery International (4hrs)
- Professional Practice - Role of the CM - Instructor: Chuck Levergood, PE, Jacobs (1hr)
- Project Management - Instructor: Chris Reseigh, FCMAA, PB (1hr)
- Quality Management - Instructor: Ann Marie Sweet-Abshire, AIA, CCM, GSA (1hr)
- Construction Safety Management - Instructor: AnnMarie Sweet-Abshire, AIA, CCM, GSA (1.50 hrs)
- Time Management/CPM Lab - Instructor: Chris Payne, PE, CCM, McDonough Bolyard Peck (3.75hrs)
- Value Engineering - Instructor: Michael Dell'Isola, PE CVS, FRICS, Faithful&Gould (2hrs)

“The program is structured both to meet the individual’s need for flexibility and convenience and to support any organization’s effort to deliver consistent enterprise-wide training,” said CMAA Chair Tom Bishop. “And you can assure that everyone receives the same content, delivered by the same instructors in the same way. Each module corresponds to a section of our SOP, so you know the content of this training truly represents our profession's Best Practices," he noted.

All CMAA SOP Certificate modules provide CEU/LU/PDH credits. Additionally, CCMs receive one recertification point per course-hour. Preview the courses and register at www.cmaanet.org/sop-modules.

CMAA is North America's only organization dedicated exclusively to the interests of the professional Construction and Program management industry.
