

CANDIDATE FOR TREASURER
Kevin Lugo, PE
MBP Construction Engineering, Inc.
Raleigh, NC

Biography:

Kevin Lugo has over 15 years of experience in the construction industry and is senior associate and the branch operations manager of MBP's office in Raleigh, North Carolina. MBP is a nationally recognized top-100 construction management firm that solely provides construction management services to the construction industry. Kevin has extensive experience working for owners, designers, and contractors providing construction management services on over $2.5 billion of construction projects. His construction management background includes a wide range of projects including heavy construction (power, highways, bridges, subways, water/waste water treatment, and utilities) and buildings (higher education, K-12 schools, hotels, offices, housing, military facilities, detention facilities, and industrial facilities).

Kevin is experienced in project management, resident engineering, field inspection, CPM scheduling, cost estimating, constructibility review, training, preparation, analysis, and evaluation of construction claims as well as negotiation and litigation support services.

Candidacy Statement:

When the North Carolina Chapter was established in January 2003, I became an active member attending Chapter functions and providing assistance to the original treasurer. In late 2005, the treasurer was transferred to another state. At that time, I volunteered to take over the that position for the Chapter and have been acting in that role ever since. I welcome the opportunity to continue as treasurer.

Over the next year, I anticipate a renewed interest in the North Carolina Chapter with many new members and participants. I am committed to ensuring the Chapter's success as treasurer or as a CMAA member; by recruiting new members and actively establishing and participating in industry relevant CMAA functions. I firmly believe CMAA can benefit North Carolina through its resources, knowledge base, and industry initiatives. CMAA clearly elevates the value and awareness of the construction management industry through initiatives such as the CCM and the Standards of Practice!
